

This is just one more example of corporate greed working against the best interest of the American public.